

Creating Your Own Luck - Using Happenstance Theory to Accelerate Your Career

Christine Cox, Christine Cox Consulting

DELIVERY SKILLS AND EXPERIENCE

- Certificate IV in Workplace Training and Assessment
- Bachelor of Education
- Over 30 years experience in designing, developing and delivering a wide range of tailored learning and development activities
- Delivered public programs for AHRI and IPAA
- Flagship presenter in QUT's Business Advantage Program for 10 years.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Career coaches needing to assist clients with their career development and/or job search strategies

RELEVANCE TO THEME

In a global market, the competition for jobs is immense and those looking to grow or shift their careers also need the skills to position themselves to be in the 'right place at the right time'.

This workshop draws on HLT* to focus on how to help clients reflect on the chance events that have shaped the positive aspects of their career journey and learn how to learn from and 'recreate these' as a positive job search or career development strategy.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

Relates to the core competencies of career development theory and professional practice, elements of the Professional Standards

KEY LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the workshop, participants will be able to:

- Demonstrate a sound understanding of Happenstance Learning Theory* (HLT)
- Appreciate how HLT can enhance the job search and career development process
- Apply a simple technique to help clients control beneficial unplanned events in their career journey.

THEORY/EVIDENCE BASE

Happenstance Learning Theory of John Krumboltz